Town From Your News Hall

Dutch Wallis, Town Clerk, is receiving applications for home-land exemption and you have until April 1st to get yours in both Town and County.

Homestead exemption, as it is written, is a screwball political ploy, which has caused municipalities to appeal to Governor Caldwell for relief. Some folks are entitled to homestead exemption to some degree.

You and I, though, haven't any business in this matter. Yes, we have signed ours and get it each year, but still don't think 95 per cent of those in Belle Glade receiving it are entitled to it.

Frank Franz made a gift to the Town of the sidewalk he has built in front of his property.

The Commission has decided that an owner must guarantee to build within one year of the acceptance of a plat for a new subdivision a rock street at least 25' wide and no lots will be less than 50 feet.

The new zoning law prohibits a residence being built on less than 50' in the residential district.

Clerk Wallis got the "long" order for the water bonds on Tuesday. The pipe manufacturers have the pipe built and in the warehouse, but the government hasn't released it yet. A trip to Washington may be necessary to get this released soon.

Frank Willer, Boy Scoutmaster, has been negotiating to let the Boy Scouts sell and erect monuments in the street numbering effort. It is contemplating that the Town will regulate the order of numbering and the Scouts will offer to the public several styles of numbers to building owners fastened to the house, or not, as you wish.

The undertaking will be educational to the Scouts, and the small profit you will pay for the numbers and for the labor putting them up will give them some money made by their own hands—and maybe you can find where you live by ordering numbering.

COOP. Making Effort To Secure Cooling And Storage Room

Mr. W. P. Hill as Chairman of the Incorporators of the meat packing cooperative has made application to the War Department to purchase a 75 car capacity cooling and storage room complete with all equipment.

The plant was inspected this past week at one of the Army and it is understood that it is adaptable for local use as a starter.

Field Boxes Protected Under Florida Laws

"Section 506.24, Florida statutes of 1941 provide that any person shall in his possession any field box marked or branded with a registered mark, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Mrs. Jas. McMullen Dies Suddenly

Funeral services for Mrs. James McMullen, 25, were conducted Thursday afternoon at 4:30 at the Miami-Seminole Chapel in West Palm Beach with Father P. J. Kelleher, St. Ann's Catholic church pastor, officiating.

So. Florida District Bonds Refinanced At Lower Interest

Callable Feature Also Carried In New Bonds To Be Issued

At its annual meeting of land-owners at which time more than 60 per cent of the eligible acreage was voted, it was announced that the refinancing of the existing $481,500 of bonds will be completed shortly with a reduction in interest rate from 4 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent and with a callable provision on some of the bonds.

The District has paid in advance $45,500 of bonds this year making the next principal payment due on July 1, 1947 for $65,000. All interest payments have been made on schedule and the District has on deposit in its sinking fund $125,555. The next interest payment comes due on July 1, 1945 in the amount of $9,630.

Walter Hooker, whose term expired was reelected for a three year term as Commissioner of the District.

The following is from Supervisor Jeffries who is also Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Commissioners:

"During the past year we were successful in cleaning all canals and laterals in the District. However, due to the high price of labor, together with an increase of 1-3 the cost of drag line operations, compared with the past years, and approximately $8,000 worth of ditch cleaning carried over from the year before, we were obliged to spend considerably more for cleanup of canals and laterals, than we anticipated in our estimated budget for the past year.

"The Hon. Orange Co. purifiers have we have installed on our engines, have proven satisfactory, showing a considerable saving in the operations and repairs that are not equipped with these purifiers. However, we expect to install purifiers on these engines as soon as finances will permit.

594 Cars Leave Glades This Week Increase In Beans

With beans showing a slight increase in value, a slight increase in the number of cars mostly going to the kraft factories, and celery in small sizes in the dog house, the total movement jumped during the past week.

There is a suggested action on the part of celery growers not to ship any size smaller than 6 1/2 as the larger sizes seem to be holding at a price that still allows them to be shipped.

Red Cross Drive $900 Short Of Quota; 1900 Members So Far

With 1133 colored and 703, all areas report additional and unreported teams who will make the week end when it is expected that the full quota will be met.

In making the calls some folks have been missed, because they have been away from home or office, or temporarily busy when the call came.

E. M. Taylor assisted by W. C. Taylor has charge of the Quarters and the Migratory Camp and have turned in close to $500 for their crop workers.

Mrs. Fleming wishes to thank the workers for the time and effort spent so far in the work and to commend them. "As soon as the job is finished—and we must have a few more good folks to get this quota raised—we will make a formal expression of our thanks for the work each worker has done."

Attitude Of Judge Vinson's Successor Unknown To Public

Concern over the attitude of William H. Davis, newly appointed director of the E. Office of Economic Stabilization, toward price ceilings on perishable commodities was voiced this week, by LaMonte Graw, manager of the Florida Vegetable Committee.

"Judge Vinson's views on price ceilings, matters were known to the industry while those of his successor are not," Graw explained. "The judge followed a middle-of-the-road policy that often resulted in inequities so far as prices received by the grower are concerned, but which was generally sound in the long run of the cost of things the grower had to buy."

Asks That As Many Laborers As Practicable Be Brought In For Spring

A Glades Advisory Committee composed of local farmers to co-operate with the Extension Service met Tuesday night and made recommendations for labor-based on the predicted late spring deal in celery, beans and potatoes.

Consideration was given to the problem of late arrivals at night to the Camp of bean pickers on a super.

Ask The Men Who Know

Some years ago it was debated in all seriousness whether the railroads were an obsolete form of transportation. Many thought that ships, trucks, busses and planes would supersede them. The war settled the debate once and for all. Had the railroads not been ready for the emergency, the United States would have been confronted with military defeat. The railroads are the only means of hauling the crushing load of men, weapons, food, heavy equipment, fuel, tools and the tens of thousands of other items that sustain modern mobile warfare. They are the only means of maintaining mass transportation without which there could not be mass production. This is the lesson that war has taught.

And now that the question of the railroads is finally settled, the next question is how can this country insure itself a permanent up-to-the-minute rail transportation system? The best qualified to answer such a question would seem to be the people who have been responsible for the success with which the railroads have met the present emergency, the railroad men themselves. Of course, it will be said that people have on axle to grind. The have. They want to continue running the best railroads in the world.

Railroad men would like to be assured of tax laws which will permit them to rehabilitate plant and equipment when men and materials are readily available after the war.

Railroad men would like to feel that the rails will have an opportunity to carry "that part of the total traffic for which they are economically best fitted on the basis of true costs and service."

If the advocacy of these fundamental railroad requisites is grinding an axe for the railroads, then the country would be better off if it had more of the same kind of axe grinders.

A Shocking Idea?

A phenomenon almost beyond understanding is the exhibition of farm organizations in many parts of the country actively promoting government ownership of power. Its doubtful if the individual farmer himself really favors such solicitation of industry.

If the government is to go into business to save the consumer money by producing the necessities of life at cost, the place to start would be in farming. According to a chart in the February 9 issue of the United States News, the price of food increased 47 per cent from August, 1939 to December, 1944 as compared with an average rise of 28.8 per cent for all items in the cost of living. Electricity, in most communities, has actually gone down in price during the same period.

The government has spent hundreds of millions of dollars at Grand Coulee, for example, to create a great hydroelectric plant and irrigation water for upwards of two million acres of land. If we are to have socialized power from this vast tax expenditure, why not have government operated farms on the land which the government plans to irrigate, in order to provide the public food at cost, thereby saving the average family many dollars a month?

Of course, the idea of publicly-owned farms is rather shocking to many people, but there is no difference between the public ownership of power plants and the public ownership of farms. They are all part of the same socialistic philosophy.

The farmers who are supposed to be the greatest exponents of private ownership of property, are living in glass houses when they throw stones at the thousands of individuals who have their savings invested in a private electric company instead of a private farm. If we are to adopt state socialism in the United States and do away with the profit system, let's start at the foundation of all wealth—namely, the land—for that is the ultimate goal of those who would socialize industry piecemeal.

Railroad Prospects

The American railroads, which have been "written off" so many times in the past, are doing an outstanding job under very difficult wartime handicaps.

Transportation of vital war materials to key points throughout the nation has been handled with precision and speed which warrant little criticism and much praise. One chapter in this story shows that more than 90 per cent of the freight cars received in the New England area alone are unloaded within 48 hours after placement—highly commendable in view of the manpower shortage.

During World War I, government operation of the roads cost the taxpayers millions of dollars a day, coupled with considerable red tape confusion. Today, under private enterprise, the carriers are paying millions of dollars a day to the treasury in taxes, coupled with smoother operations. And the roads are doing the job with one-fourth fewer freight and passenger cars and one-third fewer locomotives than in 1918, while carrying about double the load of that year.

Yet, despite the sharp increase in rail business, the peak in new earnings was reached in 1942 and has been on the downgrade since. This is due to increased wages and taxes and higher costs of materials. This concerns the railroads, because after the war they could have a high level of business, yet suffer a "prosperity slump."

Another concern of the rail lines is that during the postwar period the government may dump billions of dollars into subsidized air and water competition. Railroads are constantly facing restrictive Federal legislation. Some are threatened with antitrust suits. All this has a tendency to check large capital expenditures toward gearing operations to meet the competition of other forms of transport.

Management is justly proud of its war record. What it wants after the war is a fighting chance in the transportation field. Around railroad system is a fundamental part of a nation's economy in peace as well as in war — Christian Science Monitor.

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Milne
 The Sunday-Monday offering at the Excelesior Theatre should prove very interesting for those who like to know just how brutal the Germans can be... and are.

The picture is "The Master Race" and boasts a huge cast. As we have not sat through a real German propaganda picture for some time, and as this

"My neighbor on the next street had a telephone installed. Why did he get one before me?"

Why did he get one before me?"

This may happen for any one of several reasons.

First: Your neighbor's telephone service may be essential to the war effort or to public health, welfare and security. Such service has first call on the few facilities available in your community.

Second: There may be spare cable conductors to the central office and wires at his home. But in your street, all facilities may be in use.

Third: He may be moving service from his former home. Where he is available, these orders take precedence over applications for new service.

Fourth: His request for service may have been placed with us before yours.

We cannot tell you when your service will be installed. In many cases, it may be considerable time after final Victory. But we can assure you that your request will be filled in its proper turn.

ever sat through.
 On the same program is the famous "National Barn Dance," which is heard over the air waves every Saturday night. This one lists enough stars of the air to make you dizzy.

Thursday - Friday brings back Gloria Jean, assisted by Walter Catlett, Marjorie Weaver, Evelyn Ankers, Patrie Knowles, Mel Tormé, Patsy O'Connor and Bob Crosby and His Orchestra.

This one will be, as you know from the cast, a "rug cutting" musical opus that will "dig stuff" and throw "corn" until they have you "spine twisting" "bunny-wuggin'" with the "skin busters" ... "gut stretchers" ... "glean grutes" ... and ... "wool ... They've got me 'diggin' that stuff too." Nevertheless I am sure you'll like it.

After your truck has been through our shop you can tell by the way it runs that our treatment is good and thorough. It takes men who know all about motor trucks to make expert repairs. Our mechanics qualify for this important work. And they're hard at it these days doing all they can to keep more trucks rolling.

Your truck also appreciates good replacement parts. We sell the best—genuine International parts that are made with the original parts built into International Trucks at the factories. Order your parts now from our big stock.

New trucks will be scarce for some time to come. A few will be available in this community for essential civilian hauling. We will be glad to help you make out the necessary application. But the big thing is to keep your present equipment in the best possible shape. That's the important job we'll do for you whenever you say.

SO FLORIDA DISTRICT Continued from page 1 "Distillate is now costing the District 78c per gallon. We have a storage capacity of 72,000 gallons, six tanks of 12,000 gallons each. Inasmuch as all our distillate is received in transport, causing our orders to be delayed at times, due to the shortage of transports, we have made a practice of keeping our tanks as near full as possible at all times. We have on hand at this time 53,457 gallons and do not have any tanks with the supply low enough to hold a transport load.

We are satisfied that when the time becomes such as the District can purchase their own equipment such as drag lines and tractors, whereby we can do our cleanup work on a year around basis, cleaning our canal banks of growth and sodding them, we will be able to maintain our canals and laterals considerably cheaper in addition to giving more adequate drainage. We filed an application with the United States Department of Agriculture to purchase a D4 tractor, which we could have converted into a small drag line at such times as it was not busy digging canal banks and levees. After nine months of correspondence and appeals, they refused this application.

The 1943 taxes assessed, eliminating Sections 3 and 10, State Board of Education lands, amount to $104,288.83, of which $37,787.95 is Sinking Fund monies and $66,500.88 is Maintenance Fund monies. At the end of the tax year October 31, 1943, these were 95.93 per cent collected.

"The delinquent taxes due this District as of October 31, 1944, amounted to $56,953.28, which covered 1943 and prior years not paid, of which $15,774.88 is Sinking Fund monies and $41,178.40 is Maintenance Fund monies. Of the total amount of $56,953.28 due this District $31,513.81 is due on Sections 3 and 10 belonging to the State Board of Education. Of the above $31,513.81 due on Sections 3 and 10, $9,281.25 is Sinking Fund monies and $24,232.56 is Maintenance Fund monies.

"The total maintenance cost for the year 1944 was $2,7250 per acre, against $2,135.18 per acre average for one year over seven years and 10 months period. This increase is due to the additional amount it cost to maintain our canals and laterals.

"The District has only four regular pumps to operate the pumps, who are kept busy repairing equipment, fighting fires in levees, etc., while they are not pumping. This means we have to depend on twelve extra pump operators in order to operate our pumps in case of rain. As it is almost impossible to hire any extra operators any longer, it is going to be necessary that the larger landowners in the District cooperate with the District in furnishing enough man power to operate its pumps in an emergency.

"The condition our pump houses are in today, being covered with a light gauge corrugated iron, it is unsafe for an operator to attempt to continue to operate the pumps in case of a hurricane, after the wind has reached 75 miles an hour, which means if we have a bad storm, with these houses in this condition, pumps will have to be shut down until the worst of it passes. However as soon as funds are available and building can be resumed, it is contemplated to reroof the pump houses and replace the corrugated iron sides with concrete blocks.

"During the past year, the District removed the rock a distance of one mile from Canal No. 2, in the Chosen Ditch. This rock excavated was included in the original plan of reclamation. Besides the benefit to the farmers in the territory served by this canal of giving adequate drainage, they benefited by a mile of rock road serving the same territory.

"All figures on the attached statement are tied into the District's books and the annual report compiled by the Secretary of the District is available at the District's office for examination by anyone interested in it. The annual audit compiled by the firm of Ernst & Ernst has just been completed and will be available at the District's office in the near future.

"The Act of governing the South Florida Conservancy District limits the Maintenance Tax to $2.50 per acre per annum. Due to the increased cost of labor and material, consideration should be given to amending the act to provide a maximum of $3.00 per acre per annum.

Of general interest to South Bay and neighboring communities is the news that Rev. F. Warren Capell, former pastor of the South Bay Baptist church, has recently been transferred from the Training Union Department of the Alabama Baptist Convention to a similar position with the Florida Baptist Training Union Department. Rev. Capell, until his resignation two years ago to accept this work with the Alabama Mission Board, had served the local Baptist church in which he did an outstanding piece of work in the building up of the church membership, remodeling the church building and among the young people of this community. He put the Training Union work on a sound basis here and also assisted greatly with Training Union instruction and leadership in various parts of Florida. He in various parts of Florida. More THAN TRANSPORTATION

While the Seaboard Railway's primary function is to provide the public with adequate transportation service, our interest extends beyond the mere carrying of passengers and freight.

The Seaboard family likes to think of the Railway as an integral part of the community life—as a builder for the future. It is a matter of great pride to us that our friends and neighbors in the territory regard the Railway in that light. For many years, the Seaboard has worked tirelessly for the upbuilding of a greater South. There are many other enthusiastic builders in states served by Seaboard rails—Chambers of Commerce, newspapers, merchant agencies, power companies, merchants, manufacturers, farmers and others. It is a genuine pleasure for us to work with all these agencies and individuals for the economic betterment of the South. This will continue to be one of our principal objectives in the future.

They Live
on the Fat of the Land!

Don't throw that waste cooking fat away!
Save every bit of it! Waste fat helps make medicine and munitions for the Victory drive, helps save American lives.

Glycerine from waste fat is essential to the manufacture of dynamite, cordite, and nitroglycerine. It's used for depth charges, gun recoil mechanisms, steering gear for ships, pumps, compasses, and hydraulic equipment. Distilled glycerine is an ingredient of healing ointments and numerous salves.

Save waste fats in a wide-mouthed tin can. Your butcher will give you two red points and four cents for every pound.

More than a billion pounds of kitchen fats and greases are wasted each year in America, enough to provide one hundred million pounds of glycerine—or eight times more than we are using now.

Every household can save at least one pound of waste fat a month—and one pound will provide enough glycerine to make 1.3 pounds of gunpowder!

"DOPEY" Outlook For March Ends To April 15th

Just as much chance for frost in April as there is during the last of March. Not so good chance since the averages is about three years in 20, according to the 20-year record, not so bad.

This is C's time when a weather man can ordinarily promise from two to three good rains in that period. However, there have been about three years distributed over the twenty years when the promise would not have been fulfilled. And it may be this time but the records say after that a 85 per cent chance for it to hold good.

Of course you might get one of those cloud busters too, since we have had about four years during the 20 years when we received over four inches at one crack, sometimes in an hour or so.

Even frost has been recorded at late as April 29th, which shows that nothing can be taken for granted in the Everglades when it comes to weather.

FLORIDA
Ranks 19th as a
Brewing State

● During 1944 only 18 states produced more beer than Florida... and no state south of Washington, D. C., and east of Louisiana even approached Florida as a brewing state.

● This means that Florida is getting the benefits of a large and growing industry—more jobs for Floridians, lower taxes, increased business for a wide variety of suppliers.

● Few Floridians realize that brewing is an important industry in our state. Few realize the total amount of taxes paid by Florida breweries in state, county and city taxes... for example, the JAX Brewing Company paid last year approximately $250,000 in such taxes and nearly $1,300,000 in total taxes.

● What's more, few Floridians realize that Florida is producing beer second to none in America... JAX Beer, for instance, has repeatedly been described by experts as a "truly great beer."

● Because brewing is an important Florida industry... because it does provide jobs and relieve your tax burden... because Florida-made beers are excellent beers, you should insist on buying Florida-brewed beer. And of course, if you demand JAX, the Beer of Friendship, we'll both be happy because you can't buy better beer no matter what you pay.
